

INVITATION

to

The Honey Fair – ‘Câmpina 2010’

Prahova Valley Apiarists Association, (a professional association representing the interest of apiarists in the area with approximately 5000 hives) is organising a special event on February 6-7, 2010

Organised in February, Câmpina – Honey Fair, started as an attempt, then the second edition was an obligation and now the third becomes tradition.

Câmpina – Honey Fair is now a recognised event, particularly interesting not only for the participating companies, but also for apiarists willing to start the new apiarian year with new information and supplies directly from producers.

Câmpina – Honey Fair became one of the most important related gathering in the south of the country.

We intend to organise an event that shall attract the attention of mass-media and shall promote apiarian products.

The event shall take place in Campina – Casa Tineretului (Youth House) (inside and outside).

All local apiarists and companies that are interest in the selling and promoting of apiarian products are invited to participate. Traditional potteries, wooden sculptors, glass icons etc. shall also be present. The event is intended not only for locals, but also for tourists spending their week-ends on Prahova Valley.

This recognised event intends to attract the attention of public and press, families and their children on apiculture and on apiarian products, in particular. At this fair are expected to participate and give their feed-back on apiarian products well known figures from sport, artists and politicians, press representatives and persons that consume honey. In 2009, at a similar event we had with us Titi Prosop, Leonard Doroftei's trainer, and a team of young hopes of Romanian box.

Event's timetable:

Saturday February 6, 2010 – Honey, apiarian tools and equipments Fair – Casa Tineretului (Youth House) (inside and outside):

- 9:00 Fair opening – all participants shall have their stands ready
 - 10:30 Competition – The best honey taster (with the participation of press and officials)*
 - 11:00 – each participant shall register a type of honey for the competition, from which after the tasting, a jury form of apiarist and press representatives shall choose the best honey and shall hand out the „Câmpina 2010 – Honey Fair-Best honey” Diploma.
 - 11:30 – the schools from Câmpina shall participate to apiarian themed competitions with teams of children from 1st – 4th grade costumed in bees; the winners shall receive the title of „Albinel” și „Albinuța”. The participating children shall receive honey and apiarian products.
 - 18:00 – all participants are invited to a round table and discussions on apiculture themes and apiarian marketing.
- The competition involves a number of 10 – 12 tests with honey of known origin, the competitors shall receive a form with the name of honey types and they shall have to correctly identify as many of these possible. The winner shall be the competitor having the most correct answers. He shall receive a basket with apiarian products and a diplome „The Câmpina 2010 – Honey Fair – Best Honey taster”.*

Sunday February 7, 2010 - Honey, apiarian tools and equipments Fair – Casa Tineretului (Youth House) (inside and outside):

- 8:00 – Fair opening
- 10:00 – Apiarian Symposium: Apiculture – crisis solution
- 14:30 – Raffle with apiarian tools

Representatives of national bodies that imply apiculture, companies in the field, but also persons with a lot of experience and directly involved in the apiarian domain shall be present with communication on themes of present interest. We hope that all the participants shall have only to gain from all these points of view.

A well informed person is a strong person!

Considering the interest that this event enjoyed during previous years, we hope that 2010 Câmpina – Honey Fair shall also be a success!
